Claims 22,26,27,30 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 7/2/08.

Applicant's election with traverse of the species of group I in the reply filed on 7/2/08 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that "...the species have multiple characteristic technical features in common....." This is not found persuasive because the species are patentably distinct, as the species are structurally and operationally different, with separate searches required for the separate species.

The species of group I is a portable, manually operated bracket type device with a head support, while the species of group II is a motorized, bed attached or attachable device that lacks a head support.

It is noted that in the device of species II, the non linear arm does NOT seem to "roll" along a supporting surface of the device.

If a generic claim will be allowed, claims drawn to the species of group II, if properly dependent on such a generic claim will be allowed.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Applicant is urged to review and amend the specification to avoid unidiomatic English. For example, "carer", as used throughout the specification, should be changed to -caregiver-.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

Claims 16-21,23-25,28,29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear what exactly are the various elements of the claims.

From claim 1, lines 2, 3, 4 it is not clear what "engaging ON the person" means. From the last line of claim 1, it is not clear whether the word "roll" should be "rotate", or perhaps "roll and rotate".

In response to this office action, applicant is urged to submit a set of claims, perhaps as part of an "Appendix", in which elements of the claims are identified with numerals from the drawings. Such numerals will aid in better understanding the claims, and in avoiding mistakes, but in no way will the limit the scope of the claims which will be allowed.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 16-21, 23 -25,28,29, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wells, Carr or Gant.
